

“FΘR WHITHER THΘU GΘEST, I WILL GΘ.” -the Book of Ruth

Life flows in waves of feminine energy. There would be no life on Earth without the Mother. Nurturing always, judging never, the Goddess is the embodiment of all growth and progress. Mother Earth is fertile and ever growing. The natural relationship of the human to the Earth is receptivity. Balanced humans live in a reciprocal, symbiotic relationship with their Mother: complementing, enriching, and expanding in waves of life, love and joy.

With the dominance of the ego in the collective consciousness of the human race for the past five thousand years, our relationship with Mother Earth has fundamentally shifted. The ego wishes to own everything, to control everything. Ego-based human beings no longer receive life in joy with one-pointed Faith; ego-based human beings live in fear and therefore attempt to manipulate all of life. Control of the Earth by the left-hemisphere, male-dominant, ego-based collective consciousness of the human race has led us to the threshold of global destruction. There is no question that this must change; there is no question what the change must be; the only question is how quickly this transformation can occur.

TAKING CHARGE ΘF THE RUDDER

There is a new movement in the collective consciousness of the human race. It began as a tiny trickle from a hidden spring, but it is daily expanding in power and passion, becoming a mighty, expanding flood, which is washing away all the limitations of stress and judgment and restoring innocence. This movement is the return of the authority of the Goddess, absent from the dominant civilizations of the Earth for more than five thousand years. The Goddess is right-hemisphere dominant; She embodies intuition, Her Reality flows in waves of love from the hearts of all creatures.

Love heals; fear divides. There are only two emotions at their root - love and fear. The one is of God; it is the moving power of the Holy Spirit throughout Creation; it is the flowing life of the Goddess. Fear is the primary construct and support of the ego - it is based in illusion and has its life in dreams. Unreal at its core, it nevertheless has disastrous consequences for human life. Fear-based living leads to suffering, illness and death. A life dedicated to the Reality and the experience of love leads to joy, healing and life.

This choice between love and fear-based thinking, feeling and experiencing is a great deal easier to make than is commonly supposed. It is, after all, just a choice, a simple choice, with unlimited consequences. When love is firmly in charge, when the feminine,

Goddess energy guides the rudder of life, true progress begins and accelerates ever more quickly into the heart of perfection.

THE RETURN OF ISHANI

The appreciation of beauty and the passion for life are the natural counterparts of a love-aligned existence. For the first time in long ages of the human, the female aspect of Christ, Ishani, is returning to the Earth. When fully embodied here, the Ishani vibration of pure, unconditional love is going to propel the entire human race through a phase transition to an entirely new way of living and being. When Ishani rules in every human heart, there will be no more sickness, no more death, no more sorrow, no more destruction for Mother Earth or any of Her creatures. All species will live in harmony; all of life will progress in unlimited expansion of love, joy and full human enlightenment. This is the At-one-ment, the full expansion and blossoming of Unity Consciousness for every human.

The Atonement is coming to all of humanity now. This is the Seventh Task of the human race; this is the dawning of completion of the labors of so many for so long; this is the age prophesied by every significant civilization in the history of our world. Today we stand on the threshold of fulfillment of the ancient dream. We need only enough dedicated workers to make the transition smooth for the human race. This transition is coming, it is inevitable; the one remaining question is how many will enter the New Earth. Every human is going to be offered the chance to choose between the Life of immortality and the death that comes from the ego. Our job is only to provide this choice to all humans; it is not to decide for them how they will choose.

Ascension possesses the knowledge to heal anyone; there is nothing these techniques will not do for a soul that chooses innocence over the lies of the ego. The fruits of Ascension are unending joy, flawless clarity, infinite love, perfect health, complete alignment with the Holy Spirit. It is imperative that this Teaching spreads quickly to all lands and peoples, fulfilling the ancient promise of Christ. This is the life dedication of every Teacher of Ascension; it is the guiding light of the flawless commitment of every Ishaya.
